

Dear Members of the FCC, I am a current subscriber to XM satellite radio services. I chose to pay for the station that they provide so that I am not inundated with topics that I choose not to hear. I believe this is my right. Each evening my family and I sit down and listen to some comedy, some music, and perhaps an old radio show such as the Lone Ranger. My son falls asleep to the sound of children's music... too dream happily! I do not have to worry that he is listening to junk that is constantly being marketed to all, regardless of their age. We have not heard one commercial for 12 lovely ladies competing for Gabe the gorgeous guy. We have not had to endure the Sexy lady at the bar falling for the handsome.... Bear. Give me a break. please give our children a break. XM radio provides a wonderful service. We choose what we want to listen to. We actually hear " what we want to listen to". I have told so many people about this great service. It is not just limited to music and comedy. Traffic and weather updates are also available.

It is my understanding that the National Association of Broadcasters is trying to squelch my ability to choose commercial free broadcasting. How dare they! Is it not my right to choose what I wish to subscribe to? I applaud XM's vision. I thank them each day for their service.

I respectfully urge you reject petition 04-160.

Our Men and Woman are currently dying while fighting for the freedoms of others. Would it not be a shame if they were to return home to find that their own country does not allow them to enjoy the simple pleasure of commercial free radio?

Sincerely, Daniel C Romano
